Electronic wave LFO flipping bitts of little squares bombarding a fragilion light years per second. Blasting compact digital frequencies rip a void into your mind as the raging distortion carries you away and you will fly and land on a big pile of stuffed animals. When music bounces of your eardrums you may think you're in a 47th dimension of parallel boxes. That's what I thought when I heard that music you had on your page.....

And be sure to have a wonderful everything
