

God called drug

have you ever experienced actually truely believing you were dead?

have you ever believed you met God?

have you ever ripped open a hole into another demendion and stick your head in? have you ever seen colors that dont exist in reality?

have you ever flyed while being awake?

have you ever left your body and watched you move around from a birds eye veiw?

have you ever felt absolutly no pain at all?

drugs hurt and help

those of you who have never done intense amount of drugs (Adictions, nearl death experiences), please do not tell us that you "understand" what we went through, because you have no idea untill you have done it. This is not egotistical, its just a fact.
